STAY INFORMED

Give today be entered to win with your support of the Employee Giving Campaign

If you're interested in contributing to the Denver Health Foundation, you can enroll in payroll deductions or make a one-time donation by the end of today, Oct. 31, to be eligible for this year's Employee Giving Campaign incentives.

Your support helps fund vital programs, including at our school-based health centers, which are a critical part of Denver Health. In 2023, more than 15,000 students received care. Your contribution makes this important work possible.

Remember, you can also choose to give anytime throughout the year via Workday – your contribution matters, no matter when it's made.

Check out the Denver Health Foundation Pulse subsite to learn more and contribute today.

Daylight saving time ends Sunday

As we approach the end of daylight saving time, we want to remind everyone that at 2 a.m. this Sunday, Nov. 5, clocks should be set back one hour. Remember to adjust any clocks that do not automatically update. This change will also mean shorter daylight hours in the evening, so be mindful of your plans as we move into the winter months.

Fall Back

Laundry Services to repair steam pipe; wrinkled linen expected

On Friday, Nov. 1, a brief steam pipe repair project will happen in Laundry Services, affecting the use of the industrial iron through the weekend. There will be no linen delivery delays or downtime; however, linens may arrive wrinkled.

The Laundry Services team appreciates your support and understanding during this planned equipment downtime.

Windows 11 upgrade scheduled

IT's desktop team will upgrade the Microsoft Windows operating system from Windows 10 to Windows 11 on Sunday, Nov. 3, for Pavilion I and on Tuesday, Nov. 5, for Pavilion C. The upgrade window is from 8 p.m.-6 a.m. During this time, PCs in these units will be rebooted. Please ensure that all PCs in your work area are left on overnight.

For any concerns, please do not call the Help Desk. Staff will monitor the upgrade process and the desktop team will contact you if your PC needs replacement or if there are issues to address. Thank you for your cooperation. Find more information here on the Pulse.

$1.28M grant awarded for medical training

The Department of Health and Human Services awarded Denver Community Health Services, the federally qualified health center component of Denver Health, a $1.28 million grant to fund the health system's Teaching Health Center Graduate Medical Education (THCGME) program, making it the first program of its kind in Colorado.

Denver Health Orthopedics welcomes new sports medicine surgeon

Ian Backlund, MD, started his life without access to health care. A traumatic motocross accident he had as a teenager would change the trajectory of his life and bring him full circle here to Denver Health, where he feels privileged to work with those who come from a similar background as his.

"Denver Health has an incredible culture and provides a high level of orthopedic and musculoskeletal care to all, regardless of insurance which represents an unfair barrier to patients across the country," he noted. "The environment and mission at Denver Health resonated with me and my background."

Dr. Backlund enjoys helping anyone with knee, shoulder, hip and joint injuries – whether they are athletes or not – get back to doing the things that they love. He is proud to be a part of Denver's only Orthopedic Center of Excellence and work on the sports medicine team, led by Jarrod King, MD.

Denver Health staff engages with parents at MOMS Tour

RECOGNIZING YOU

Recognizing health care awareness during November

This November, we focus on important health issues, honor the steadfast dedication of our health care professionals and recognize special observances in their name. Together, we can learn, share, and grow while appreciating the commitment of those who support our well-being.

CAM ACADEMY

Trauma-responsive care workshops available

Denver Health's Center for Addiction Medicine Academy provides training and technical assistance on traumaresponsive substance use disorder treatment for Colorado and surrounding regions.

In partnership with the Public Health Institute at Denver Health's Denver Prevention Training Center, CAM Academy has launched a three-hour, virtual, trauma-responsive care workshop to increase knowledge and skills to deliver compassionate care. This workshop will provide strategies for creating trauma-responsive care environments to foster healing in the patients we serve. This workshop will be held on Nov. 14 and Dec. 12 and offers CNE and CME credits.

CAM Academy is also starting a new three-hour, virtual, instructor-led course, "Addiction Medicine 101." It provides a foundational understanding on how to support and interact with patients with substance use disorder as they navigate the many different paths to recovery. This course will be held Nov. 19 and Dec. 10, and also offers CNE and CME credits.

Both courses are offered at no cost for Denver Health employees. To register, select your preferred course date here and the registration fee will be waived.

GRATITUDE

Obstetrics and Gynecology team praised for excellent care

It is rewarding to hear from patients who have received outstanding care at Denver Health. This week, we're highlighting a patient review of our Obstetrics and Gynecology team.

"I love my doctors and the nurses here, everyone is kind and very caring! They go above and beyond for you. I truly appreciate the service I get each time I come here, whether it be at the women's clinic or the ER. Everyone is so sweet and compassionate. Truly feels like you're walking into a 'second home.""

We encourage staff to ask patients to leave a positive review online, as a higher rating helps build trust in our community. Every star counts!
